tempt by General Rias Opinal, a former federal commander, to capture Piedras Negras, Coahuila, with a force of 25 men organized in Texas were received today at the department.

General Opinal was killed, eleven non-commissioned officers at Piedras Negras garrison suspected of inciting troops to revolt were executed and Opinal's chief lieutenant, Chimeulo, also a former federal officer, was captured. Two of his men were killed and their bodies publicly displayed at the Piedras Negras city hall. Fifteen of the others are in hiding at Piedras Negras, the remainder having fled back to Texas.

Brigadier General Bliss, commanding the border troops at Naco, Ariz., reported today that the rival Mexican factions were still holding their positions, and abt desultory fighting continued. He made no mention of any shots falling on American soil.

Englishman Released.

Percy Meaker, a British subject imprisoned at Navajon, Sonora, has been released by order of Governor Maytorena under 5,000 pesos cash bond. Meaker's automobile was seized by Carranza troops and used in transporting soldiers and he was charged with aiding an enemy. He is manager of a ranch owned by interests in New York City. American Consul Stillman at Mexico City today transmitted a message sent by Maytorena, Villa commander at Naco, to Provisional President Gutierrez, stating his intention of moving his forces away from the American border. Saturday, he said, his forces refused to return the fire to avoid shooting into American territory.

Scott Resumes Probe.

NACO, Ariz., Dec. 22.—Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott resumed today his investigation of the border trouble. He is seeking information from those in touch with Mexican affairs which may lead in composing the situation here, where for 10 weeks Governor Jose Maytorena of Sonora, the Villa leader, has besieged the Carranza forces under General Benjamin Hill, entrenched in Naco, Sonora.

The United States army forces here, under command of Brigadier Tasker H. Bliss, now total 4,700 men.

Riots In Italy As King Greets Kaiser's Envoy

VON BUELOW ARRIVES WHILE POLICE QUELL RIOTOUS PATRIOTS.

KING RECEIVES KAISER'S REPRESENTATIVE WHILE BAND PLAYS GERMAN AIR.

ROME, Dec. 22.—Troops and police here and in other Italian cities subdued riotous patriots who tried to turn the anniversary of the death of the Irradist leader, Oberdank, into a violent demonstration against Austria.

In contrast, King Victor Emmanuel received with high honors, Prince von Buelow, formerly German chancellor, the new German ambassador here, whose mission, it is supposed is to induce Italy to join her former allies, Germany and Austria, in the war or, at least, to keep out of the tremendous struggle.

Oberdank was executed for his plot to assassinate Emperor Franz Josef, of Austria, in Trieste, in 1882.

"A voice is still ringing from Caprera Island, where my father is buried. It asks for facts, not words, about the purpose of the present enlistment of Italian volunteers."

So cried Ricciotti Garibaldi, leaning on his crutches at a meeting here. At the words of the Italian liberator's son, the assemblage broke into vociferous shouts.

"Long live Italy! Long live Trieste! Long live Trieste! Let Austria restore to us the Adriatic ports she stole from us!"

The Republican Deputy, Cola Aveni, recited the fate of Oberdank, "Martyr of Trieste." Then the audience streamed from the hall and tried to make their way to the Austrian Embassy. Police and troops headed them off after a struggle in which many persons were injured and arrested. The same demonstration was made in Ancona, Genoa and many other places where, as here, mourning placards were posted and leaflets distributed: "Remember Oberdank."

Prince von Buelow presented his credentials and remained for an hour with the King. The Prince said he was greatly satisfied with his audience.

The King sent the court gala carriages to the new Ambassador's residence to bring him to the Quirinal. At the entrance to the palace the buglers played a German air.

The Prince, who married an Italian lady of high rank, is very popular in Roman society.

Holly Wreaths.

Fairmont is adorned as usual with the proverbial holly wreath. Most of the banks and many of the business houses have hung in their windows this emblem of the Christmas tide, while the majority of residences display in one of more of their windows, the wreaths, symbols of the season.

Stores Crowded.

The mercantile establishments of the city have enjoyed a good day, today. The bright weather brought out many buyers and the stores have been crowded, as perhaps on no other day during the present season. The Timely Christmas Sale.

A sale of oriental rugs at the Jones Department store has solved serious problem for many belated Christmas shoppers. A representative from a well known New York house is present at the Jones store this week with a splendid line of orientals, the collection including many rugs in small sizes, which have solved Christmas buying for a number of people.

MR. AND MRS. JACKSON RESTING COMFORTABLY

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, who were injured by falling from the burning company store at Baxter yesterday morning are resting comfortably. They spent a very restful night and it is thought Mr. Jackson will be out within a few days. Mrs. Jackson's injuries are very painful and her recovery will probably be slow. However unless internal injuries should develop she will recover.

TRAINS LATE.

All trains were late today. The cause assigned was that there is an unusual heavy Christmas traffic. Many people are now on their way to the places where they will spend the holidays and this makes passenger traffic heavy. The expressmen are having plenty to do in handling the packages that are coming in and those that are being shipped.
